B MODULE DESIGN

For further information please refer to the UoH Quality and Standards webpages – ‘Curriculum Design’ under the ‘Programme Development and Management’ heading.

11	Module Indicative Content Please outline the key themes and topics to be included in this module. Please consider the diversity of perspectives that are being presented (e.g. non-European, Black Asian and Minority Ethnic, LGBTQ).
	This Module will continue to expand upon technical, performance and ensemble skills through a combination of individual and group learning environments. Students will pursue diverse repertoire within the above contexts which will cover an expansive chronology, varied cultural origins and a range of interpretative approaches. There will be the opportunity to learn through bespoke and tailored one-to-one lessons as well as peer workshop and ensemble environments. Due to the live summative assessment this module is working towards, there will be a greater emphasis on the exploration of ‘presentation’; concentrating on topics such as stagecraft, performer image and visual presentation, genre studies, movement, improvisation and performance technology. Within the ensemble and workshop context, they will be able to further investigate and discuss prevailing performance related topics such as audience psychology, performance anxiety and aural skills for example. The vocal group ensemble and choir element will enable students to develop greater assurance in relation to choral conducting and leadership, aural skills and genre studies from Semester one as well as engage with additional historical and contemporary vocal group repertoire. The module will enable students to advance their fundamentals of vocal performance, expand upon existing skills in technique and musicianship, enhance foundations within their specialist performance skills, develop assurance in collaboration, refine aural skills and widen repertoire awareness within a live performance lens.
12	Rationale Please explain the rationale for including the module in the programme, including how it fits with other modules and the overall programme.
	This module centres around the student’s principal discipline of voice use within a live performance setting. It provides a variety of practical contexts for the student to continue to discover ways to utilise their voice in both a solo and group performance setting. Multiple factors related to technical, creative, interpretive and presentation skills will be introduced to them as individuals and within workshop and ensemble environments. There will continue to be a core focus on engaging with diverse repertoire to gain insight into the vocal group and ensemble idiom as well as further developing confidence as an individual performer and ensemble leader within peer learning situations. It will support the other modules by enabling the application of skills and knowledge acquired elsewhere within the programme in a practical and applied context with a focus on live performance for this semester.
13	Learning and Teaching Methods Please outline the teaching and learning methods and the rationale for their selection, including how this fits with the overall programme approach.
	Delivery will be through a series of individual one-to-one lessons, workshops, and ensembles. Individual 1-2-1 lessons will be used for specific, bespoke and student-led exploration of technical skill, repertoire, interpretation and performance skills.

Workshops will be used as an arena for the practical exploration and application of skills. They are designed to support the student's one-to-one activity and place their individual study in the wider context of technical considerations, ensemble approaches, artistic expression, audience awareness and industry context through a broad range of repertoire.

Ensembles are used for collaborative investigation of repertoire, musicianship and performance skills in a peer learning environment.

Students have bi-weekly taught one-to-one and workshop and weekly ensemble sessions during trimester 1. Each session focuses on a specific set of skills and knowledge and is delivered in a subject appropriate format and setting. This allows for the facilitation of theoretic and technical knowledge, acquisition and application of skills, and the exploration of repertoire and performance skills.

17	Ethical Issues Universities research and develop modules, which deal with issues that may be sensitive or involve ethical considerations. As with research, the duty of care extends to all involved in learning and teaching. Please highlight any relevant issues that relate to content, teaching methods and assessment and state how they are to be addressed (include evidence of support from relevant ethics committees and relevant risk assessments as appropriate).
	This module is designed to offer students access to engage with a range of performance opportunities and related skills, partaking in both individual and group vocal settings with a focus on live performance and ensemble leadership. The content of this module will expose students to a range of diverse cultures, lineage and repertoire through the application of voice within musical material and expression. The cultural and historical sensitivity throughout this study will lead to students building an understanding of the role of the voice within a multitude of cultures and chronology. Awareness will be encouraged in relation to any potential appropriation issues which will be delicately handled by the tutors. Students will engage in discussions around the ethical responsibilities of performers, creatives, voice professionals, ensemble leaders, educators and facilitators, considering the potential impact of the work they are producing, and the methods being employed. Solo and group performance are a key part of this module, hence the creation of a safe space for all to participate being at the centre of this learning experience. Leeds Conservatoire is committed to maintaining the quality and ethical standards in our programmes when members of our academic community undertake primary research. The practice of following the conservatoire's research approvals process ensures information is gathered via ethical and respectful interactions with participants, following best research practices. All students are required to adhere to the conservatoire's Research Approvals Process.
18	What are the risks associated with this module and any plans for mitigation against these?
	As part of this module, the summative assessment is a live performance. There are some potential associated risks with this type of assessment relating to the extraneous variables such as a student not being able to physically participate in their assessment on the given day. To mitigate against this, there will be the option to re-take their assessment at a deferred date by video submission as a last resort with the correct and appropriate mitigation forms being agreed by the Exams department. There is also the possibility that students may encounter some repertoire that does not align with their own belief systems when looking at any secular, gospel or historical based content as part of the vocal group/choir element. To mitigate against this, students will be prepared for the upcoming repertoire in advance and contextualisation will be key by the tutor. Wherever possible, there will be authentic representation and translation provided to accompany any such material. Tutor awareness, sensitivity and training will be integral to the contextualisation of all learning materials and discussion.
19	Equality and Diversity Higher education is covered by the Equality Act 2010, which protects individuals from discrimination on the basis of the following protected characteristics: age; disability; gender reassignment; pregnancy and maternity; race; religion or belief; sex; sexual orientation. Detail the adjustments you have considered to ensure this module anticipates the needs of students with any of these characteristics.
	Principles of Equality and Diversity are embedded in every aspect of this module, from the curriculum design and schemes of work, reading list, the establishing of a safe learning environment and the assessment design. The learning environments are designed to be a safe space for all students to work in and contribute to. Within this module, the element of group work, peer learning/feedback and individual performance will be introduced and managed by the tutors to ensure that everyone feels comfortable and able to contribute and exhibit works in progress ahead of assessment. There will be a focus on creating a supportive peer community for all students as they will be learning together as well as individually. Within the one-to-one environment, teaching staff and students will be aware of the additional support that the student wellbeing service provide and how to access this wherever there is an identified need to engage with this service, going beyond the remits of the taught content.

The nature of this module opens up free choice regarding the origins and genres for all repertoire that can be explored both individually and communally. Due to the vast expanse of history that choral music originates from as well as the diversity that vocal group repertoire covers globally, there will be significant breadth of repertoire provided and accessible. Furthermore, musical content will be available and delivered in a variety of formats; including by rote (ear), notated, recorded and live.

Teaching and learning resources and spaces will be accessible to all in a practical capacity as well as accompanying learning materials.

All assessments include a fixed submission deadline to accommodate students with additional needs. This inclusive approach will be incorporated into the assignment deadline for every student.

C MODULE ASSESSMENT

20 Rationale for Assessment Methods Chosen Including Inclusivity

Please outline the rationale for the formative and summative assessment methods chosen. What steps have been taken to ensure assessment is inclusive e.g. alignment of formative and summative assessment and scaffolding of assessment tasks), and how this fits with the overall programme approach.

Students will deliver a live performance that showcases technical awareness, ensemble leadership and group vocal participation. The live performance encourages the consolidation of knowledge across the strands of the module, and for students to demonstrate the acquisition of skills learned for the duration of this module including Semester one, in order reflect the professional industry. Despite the collaborative nature of the process and presentation, students will present individual performances and receive an individual mark and feedback.

Inclusivity is enhanced by allowing the student full creative decision making in the conceptualisation and realisation of their performance.

Students will have access to video editing tuition through the learning enhancement provision and can access technical assistance as well as camera hire to help them prepare and complete their assessments.

21 Assessment Model for this Module (Formative and Summative)

	Programme Competencies Addressed	Summative Assessment Type and Title (where relevant)	%	Formative Assessment that aligns to the Summative
SA1	PC2, PC9, PC11, PC12	PERFROMANCE 20-minute live performance	100%	Tutor and peer feedback will be ongoing throughout the trimester

22 Module Resubmission or Reassessment

Resubmission of the original assessment is the standard approach. Please ensure that the resubmission is feasible. If the original assessment is an examination or requires wider input, e.g. group assessment, lab work, peer participation, then reassessment may be required.

Where reassessment is required instead of resubmission, please provide a rationale below, and complete the box below.

In the case of the student being unable to attend their live assessment for unforeseen circumstances, there will be a resubmission option for a Video submission of their live performance at a date following the main assessment period.

	Programme Competencies addressed	%	Assessment Type and Title (where relevant)
